

Dataset: crustaceans

Description:

This dataset contains the number of a certain type of crustacean found in a sample of marine plankton, for 150 such samples.

Variables:

A single variable containing the number of crustaceans found in the sample, for each of the 150 samples.

Source: Barnes, H. and Marshall, S. M. (1951). On the variability of replicate plankton samples and some applications of “contagious” series to the statistical distribution of catches over restricted periods. Journal of Marine Biol. Assoc. UK, 30, 233-263.

Also available in Dataset #227 in: Hand, D. J., Daly, F., Lunn, A. D., McConway, K. J. and Ostrowski, E. (1994). A Handbook of Small Data Sets. London: Chapman and Hall.